- “Best Managed Telecommunication Services Company in China” – Silver Award
- “Most Committed to ESG in China” – Silver Award
- “Best Use of Technology in China” – Silver Award

As a highly influential and authoritative selection in the Asian capital market, FinanceAsia's "Asia's Best Companies Poll" has been held for 26 consecutive years. The selection process adopts a real-name voting mechanism by investors and financial analysts and conducts a multi-dimensional evaluation of the overall performance of the selected companies over the past 12 months, covering core dimensions such as corporate governance, sustainable development, and investor relations. It aims to identify and recognize outstanding Asian listed companies that excel across various areas, and its results enjoy widespread credibility within the industry.

China Telecom's numerous awards granted by FinanceAsia in the "Asia's Best Companies Poll" not only signify strong endorsement from investors and analysts for its efforts in key areas, but also underscore the capital market's high regard for its long-term development and strategic direction. Looking ahead, China Telecom will work toward the goal of becoming a leading AI service provider, taking token services as the main line of business, and proactively driving the upgrade of its corporate strategy. It will fully deepen reform and opening-up on all fronts and continuously enhance corporate governance capabilities to ensure a good start for the 15th Five-Year Plan period, while enabling the Company to take the lead, shoulder the responsibilities, and set an example in Chinese modernization!
