- (iii) it will improve the core competitiveness of the Company as the Company will be able to offer full services (fixed-line, mobile, data and multimedia) to its customers by providing greater value for, and satisfying the diverse communication and information needs of, its customers;

The lease fee under the Telecom CDMA Lease was determined and agreed between the Company and China Telecom Corporation after arm’s length negotiations with reference to the number of CDMA subscribers to be acquired by the Company under the Proposed Business Acquisition, the MOU and ARPU of such CDMA subscribers as ascertainable from publicly available information, the estimated Telecom CDMA Business Revenue in the Initial Term, estimated total depreciation and amortization and relevant financial charge as a percentage of revenue of peer companies and the lease fee set out in the Unicom CDMA Lease. In determining the proposed annual caps for the Telecom CDMA lease, the Company has taken into account the number of CDMA subscribers to be acquired by the Company under the Proposed Business Acquisition and the expected number of additional CDMA subscribers during the Initial Term, the MOU and ARPU of such CDMA subscribers as ascertainable from publicly available information and the forecast MOU and ARPU of the average number of CDMA subscribers during the Initial Term, the proposed percentage of Telecom CDMA Business Revenue to be paid to China Telecom Corporation under the Telecom CDMA Lease, the Company’s view of the industry trends and the continuing market and business development of the Group.

Discount for Delay

Subject to certain exceptions, including delay caused by a force majeure event, a material breach of the Telecom CDMA Lease by the Company or as a result of compliance by China Telecom Corporation with applicable laws and regulations, if China Telecom Corporation fails to provide any Capacity which affects the provision of services by the Company, China Telecom Corporation shall be liable to provide a discount for delay to the lease fee to the Company, calculated as follows:

$$\text{Discount for delay} = \frac{\text{Number of CDMA subscribers of the Company affected by the delay}}{\text{Number of CDMA subscribers of the Company}} \times \frac{\text{delay period (number of days)}}{\text{Number of days in the relevant month}} \times \frac{\text{ARPU of CDMA subscribers}}{\text{Number of days in the relevant month}}$$

In the above formula, the “number of CDMA subscribers of the Company affected by the delay” shall be determined by the Company with the support of reports and substantive evidence; the “ARPU of CDMA subscribers” shall be the average monthly ARPU figure of the CDMA subscribers in the affected areas for the three months immediately prior to the delay, as calculated and determined by the Company.

Discount for delay shall be set off against the next instalment of lease fee to be made by the Company to China Telecom Corporation.

Network Construction Costs and Operating Costs

China Telecom Corporation shall be responsible for the planning, finance and construction of the CDMA Network and shall ensure that the CDMA Network is constructed in accordance with the detailed design standards, specifications and timetable agreed between the Company and China Telecom Corporation. All payments, costs, expenses and amounts paid or incurred by China Telecom Corporation that are directly attributable to the construction of each phase of the CDMA Network, capitalised interest on loans, any taxes levied or paid in respect of the equipment procurement and the construction of the CDMA Network and all costs incurred in relation to any re-configuration, upgrade, enhancement or modification to technology (together, the “Network Construction Costs”) shall be borne by China Telecom Corporation. Such cost shall be audited and verified by the Company and its auditors.

The Company shall be responsible for the operation, management and maintenance of the CDMA Network in accordance with the Telecom CDMA Lease. The Capacity Maintenance Related Costs (as defined below) shall be shared between the Company and China Telecom Corporation and calculated as follows:

(a) the percentage of operating cost borne by China Telecom Corporation:

$$\frac{\text{Total Capacity} - \left(\frac{\text{Total number of actual CDMA subscribers of the Company at the end of the month prior to the occurrence of the cost}}{90\%} \right)}{\text{Total Capacity}}$$

(b) the percentage of operating cost borne by the Company:

$$\frac{\left(\frac{\text{Total number of actual CDMA subscribers of the Company at the end of the month prior to the occurrence of the cost}}{90\%} \right)}{\text{Total Capacity}}$$

The Capacity Maintenance Related Costs referred to above mean the rental fees for the exchange centres and the base stations and other related fees such as water and electricity charges, heating charges and fuel charges for the relevant equipment etc., as well as the maintenance costs of a non-capital nature. Other costs relating to the operation and management of the CDMA Network shall be borne by the Company.

Purchase Option

China Telecom Corporation has granted to the Company an option to purchase the CDMA Network (the “Purchase Option”) under the Telecom CDMA Lease. The Purchase Option may be exercised, at the discretion of the Company, at any time during the term of the Telecom CDMA Lease or within one year after the expiry of the Telecom CDMA Lease. No premium has been paid or will be payable by the Company for the grant of the Purchase Option.

The Company and China Telecom Corporation will discuss and negotiate the purchase price with reference to the appraised value of the CDMA Network determined in accordance with applicable PRC laws and regulations and taking into account prevailing market conditions and other factors, provided that the purchase price shall not be greater than such price as would, taking into account all lease fee payments made by the Company under the Telecom CDMA Lease and all discounts for delay, enable China Telecom Corporation to recover its investment in the CDMA Network together with an internal rate of return on its investment of 8%.

The Company will comply with all applicable requirements under the Listing Rules, including Rules 14.75 and 14.77 of the Listing Rules and the reporting, announcement and independent shareholders’ approval requirements under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules if and when the Company exercise the Purchase Option.

3.2 REASONS FOR ENTERING INTO THE TELECOM CDMA LEASE

The Company has been notified by China Telecom Corporation that, subject to certain conditions, China Telecom Corporation has agreed to acquire the CDMA Network from the Network Sellers at a consideration of RMB66.2 billion (equivalent to approximately HK$75.6 billion). It is expected that the acquisition of the CDMA Network by China Telecom Corporation will take place at the same time as the acquisition of the CDMA Business by the Company.

Following completion of such acquisition, China Telecom Corporation will own a nationwide CDMA Network in the PRC. The Telecom CDMA Lease will provide the Company with the exclusive right to use and operate an existing nationwide CDMA Network which will support and facilitate the commencement and operation of the CDMA telecommunications business by the Company upon completion of the Proposed Business Acquisition. It will also provide the Company with an immediate entry into, and benefit from, the fast-growing, attractive and profitable PRC mobile telecommunications market.

Under the Telecom CDMA Lease, China Telecom Corporation shall be responsible for making further investments into the CDMA Network to increase network capacity and improve network quality and functionality to support the Company to compete in the highly competitive PRC mobile telecommunications market and such investment costs will be borne by China Telecom Corporation. Such an arrangement will enable the Company to avoid the investment risks involved in developing the CDMA Network, particular in the early stages of the Company's entry into the PRC mobile telecommunications market.

The Company believes that the terms of the Telecom CDMA Lease are broadly in line with those of the Unicom CDMA Lease and, in particular, the lease fee payable under the Telecom CDMA Lease is more favourable than that under the Unicom CDMA Lease. Further, the lease fee payable under the Telecom CDMA Lease will be determined with reference to the Telecom CDMA Business Revenue which will allow the Company to reduce operating risks and will avoid the Company having to incur depreciation and finance charges during the initial stage of development of its CDMA telecommunications business which may in turn result in a saving of operating costs.

The Telecom CDMA Lease is renewable at the option of the Company and the Company is also granted the Purchase Option which may be exercised at any time by the Company during the term of the Telecom CDMA Lease or within one year after the termination or expiry of the Telecom CDMA Lease. Such an arrangement will provide the Company with greater flexibility to utilise its resources in the most efficient way and to enhance shareholder value.

4 NON-EXEMPT CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

4.1 INTERCONNECTION SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

The Company entered into the Interconnection Settlement Agreement on 10 September 2002. The Interconnection Settlement Agreement was renewed on 30 August 2006 for a further term of two years expiring on 31 December 2008 and can be renewed with the same terms for further periods of three years unless the Company provides three months' written notification to China Telecom Corporation of its intention not to renew the agreement. As a result of the Proposed Business Acquisition, on 27 July 2008, the Company and China Telecom Corporation entered into the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement to amend the terms of the Interconnection Settlement Agreement to include interconnection arrangement for local calls between the Company and China Telecom Corporation in the same locality. For local calls originated from the China Telecom Corporation to the Company in the same locality, there will be no revenue sharing and settlement arrangement in accordance with the Measures on Settlement of Interconnection between Public Telecommunications Networks and Sharing of Relaying Fees promulgated by the former Ministry of Information Industry of the PRC in November 2003. The Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement will take effect from the Completion Commencement Date. In addition, the Interconnection Settlement Agreement (as amended by the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement) has been renewed in accordance with its provisions for a further term expiring on 31 December 2010.

The telephone operator terminating a telephone call made to its local access network shall be entitled to receive from the operator from which the telephone call originated, a fee prescribed by the former Ministry of Information Industry of the PRC or the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology of the PRC from time to time, which is currently RMB0.06 per minute. The formula for settlement is based on the net volume of telephone calls originating from the Group to China Telecom Corporation and/or its associates or originating from China Telecom Corporation and/or its associates to the Group multiplied by the settlement fee prescribed by the former Ministry of Information Industry of the PRC or the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology of the PRC.

The transactions under the Interconnection Settlement Agreement (as amended by the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement) will be subject to the reporting and announcement requirements set out in Rules 14A.45 to 14A.47 of the Listing Rules and the independent shareholders' approval requirements under Rule 14A.48 of the Listing Rules.

4.2 ENGINEERING FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT

The Company and China Telecom Corporation entered into the Engineering Framework Agreement on 30 August 2006. The Engineering Framework Agreement will expire on 31 December 2008 and can be renewed for further periods of three years unless the Company notifies China Telecom Corporation in writing at least three months prior to the expiration of the term of its intention not to renew the Engineering Framework Agreement.

The Engineering Framework Agreement sets out the terms in respect of the supervision and management of services relating to construction, design, equipment installation and tests provided to the Group through bids made by China Telecom Corporation and/or its associates, and/or services as the general contractors for the construction and supervision of engineering projects of the Group (the “Engineering Related Services”).

As a result of the intention of the Company not to renew the Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement, on 27 July 2008, the Company and China Telecom Corporation entered into the Engineering Framework Supplemental Agreement to amend the terms of the Engineering Framework Agreement. The Engineering Framework Supplemental Agreement will take effect from 1 January 2009 and will expand the scope of services under the Engineering Framework Agreement to include Engineering Related Services at the inter-provincial level. Such services were previously within the scope of the Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement. In addition, the Engineering Framework Agreement (as amended by the Engineering Framework Supplemental Agreement) has been renewed in accordance with its provisions for a further term of one year expiring on 31 December 2009.

The charges payable for the services under the Engineering Framework Agreement and the Engineering Framework Supplemental Agreement shall be determined by reference to the market rates. The charges payable for the design or supervision of engineering projects with a value over RMB500,000 (equivalent to approximately HK$571,357), or construction of engineering projects with a value over RMB2,000,000 (equivalent to approximately HK$2,285,427) shall be determined by reference to the tender price. The Group does not accord any priority to China Telecom Corporation and/or its associates to provide such services, and the tender may be awarded to an independent third party. However, if the terms of an offer from China Telecom Corporation and/or its associates are at least as favourable as those offered by another tenderer, the Group may award the tender to China Telecom Corporation and/or its associates.

The existing annual cap for the service charges payable by the Company to China Telecom Corporation under the Engineering Framework Agreement for the two years ended 31 December 2006 and 2007 and the year ending 31 December 2008 is RMB8,327 million (equivalent to approximately HK$9,515 million). For the two years ended 31 December 2006 and 2007, the total service charges paid by the Company to China Telecom Corporation under the Engineering Framework Agreement amounted to RMB7,871 million (equivalent to approximately HK$8,994 million) and RMB7,815 million (equivalent to approximately HK$8,930 million), respectively. Based on the Company's management accounts, the total service charges paid by the Company to China Telecom Corporation for engineering related services for the six months ended 30 June 2008 amounted to RMB3,249 million (equivalent to approximately HK$3,713 million).

Based on the nature of the Engineering Related Services, the existing scale and operations of the Company's business and the forecast level of expenditure for Engineering Related Services, the total amount payable by the Company to China Telecom Corporation for provision of engineering related services under the Engineering Framework Agreement (as amended by the Engineering Framework Supplemental Agreement) in for the financial year ending 31 December 2009 is RMB8,327 million (equivalent to approximately HK$9,515 million). Accordingly such amount has been set as the proposed annual cap for this connected transaction for the financial year ending 31 December 2009. The existing annual cap for this connected transaction for the financial year ending 31 December 2008 will remain unchanged.

4.3 ANCILLARY TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT

The Company and China Telecom Corporation entered into the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement on 30 August 2006. The Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement will expire on 31 December 2008 and can be renewed for further periods of three years upon expiration unless either party notifies the other in writing at least three months prior to the expiration of the term of its intention to terminate the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement.

The Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement relates to the provision of certain repair and maintenance services, including repair of certain telecommunications equipment, the maintenance of fire prevention equipment and telephone booths and other customers' services provided by China Telecom Corporation and/or its associates to the Group (the "Ancillary Telecommunications Services").

As a result of the intention of the Company not to renew the Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement, on 27 July 2008, the Company and China Telecom Corporation entered into the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Supplemental Agreement to amend the terms of the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement. The Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Supplemental Agreement will take effect from 1 January 2009 and will expand the scope of services under the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement to include Ancillary Telecommunications Services at the inter-provincial level. Such services were previously within the scope of the Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement. In addition, the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement (as amended by the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Supplemental Agreement) has been renewed in accordance with its provisions for a further term of one year expiring on 31 December 2009.

The charges payable by the Company for the services under the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Supplemental Agreement were calculated on the following basis:

- (i) the government-prescribed prices;
- (ii) where there are no government-prescribed prices but where there are government-guided prices, the government-guided prices apply;
- (iii) where there are neither government-prescribed prices nor government-guided prices, the market prices apply. The market price is defined as the price at which the same type of services are provided by independent third parties in the ordinary course of business; or
- (iv) where none of the above is applicable, the prices are to be agreed between the relevant parties for the provision of the above services, which shall be the reasonable costs incurred in providing the same plus a reasonable profit margin (for this purpose, “reasonable costs” means such costs as confirmed by both parties after negotiations).

The existing annual caps for the service charges payable by the Company to China Telecom Corporation under the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement for the two years ended 31 December 2006 and 2007 is RMB3,900 million (equivalent to approximately HK$4,457 million), and for the year ending 31 December 2008 is RMB4,340 million (equivalent to approximately HK$4,959 million). For the two years ended 31 December 2006 and 2007, the total service charges paid by the Company to China Telecom Corporation under the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement amounted to RMB3,238 million (equivalent to approximately HK$3,700 million) and RMB3,574 million (equivalent to approximately HK$4,084 million), respectively. Based on the Company’s management accounts, the total service charges paid by the Company to China Telecom Corporation for ancillary telecommunication related services for the six months ended 30 June 2008 amounted to RMB1,897 million (equivalent to approximately HK$2,168 million).

Based on the historical service charges paid and the estimated extent of ancillary telecommunication related services required by the Company in connection with the provision of CDMA telecommunication services upon completion of the Proposed Business Acquisition, the total amount payable by the Company to China Telecom Corporation for provision of ancillary telecommunication related services under the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement for the year ending 31 December 2008 and under the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement (as amended by the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Supplemental Agreement) for the year ending 31 December 2009 are RMB4,850 million (equivalent to approximately HK$5,542 million) and RMB6,800 million (equivalent to approximately HK$7,770 million), respectively. Accordingly these amounts have been set as the proposed revised annual cap and the proposed annual cap for this connected transaction.

The increased demand for ancillary telecommunications services as a result of (i) the completion of the acquisition of China Telecom Group Beijing Corporation by the Company in June 2008 (details of such acquisition are set out in the announcement of the Company dated 31 March 2008) and the Proposed Business Acquisition; (ii) the increased amount of ancillary telecommunications services provided by China Telecom Corporation following the acquisition of China International Telecommunications Construction Corporation by China Communications Services Corporation Limited (a subsidiary of China Telecom Corporation) in April 2008 (details of such acquisition are set out in the announcement of China Communications Services Corporation Limited dated 3 April 2008); (iii) the additional repair works required for ancillary telecommunications facilities damaged in the earthquake which occurred in the PRC on 12 May 2008 and (iv) the implementation of the Group's strategy to further outsource the repair and maintenance service requirements, will lead to an annual transaction amount which will slightly exceed the existing annual cap and hence the proposed revised annual cap for the year ending 31 December 2008 has been slightly increased. The Company expects that the existing annual cap for the service charges payable by the Company to China Telecom Corporation under the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement for the year ending 31 December 2008 will not be exceeded before approval from the Independent Shareholders for the proposed revised annual cap has been obtained. The proposed annual cap for the year ending 31 December 2009 has also been substantially increased as a result of the expected substantial increase in operating costs in connection with enhancing market competitiveness in the mobile communications sector following completion of the Proposed Business Acquisition and the further expansion of the Company's outsourcing strategy.

5 COMPLIANCE WITH THE HONG KONG LISTING RULES

5.1 PROPOSED BUSINESS ACQUISITION

Since the applicable percentage ratios set out in Rule 14.07 of the Listing Rules in respect of the Proposed Business Acquisition contemplated under the Acquisition Agreement exceed 5% but is less than 25%, the Proposed Business Acquisition constitutes a discloseable transaction of the Company under Rule 14.06 of the Listing Rules.

5.2 CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

As of the Latest Practicable Date, China Telecom Corporation directly owned 70.89% of the Company's issued share capital. As such, China Telecom Corporation is a connected person of the Company. Accordingly, any ongoing transaction between the Company and China Telecom Corporation constitutes continuing connected transactions of the Company.

As the proposed annual caps for the Telecom CDMA Lease for the years ending 31 December 2009 and 2010, the proposed annual cap for the Engineering Framework Agreement (as amended by the Engineering Framework Supplemental Agreement) for the year ending 31

December 2009 and the proposed revised annual cap for the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Agreement for the year ending 31 December 2008 and the proposed annual cap for the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement (as amended by the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Supplemental Agreement) for the year ending 31 December 2009 will exceed the 2.5% threshold under Rule 14A.34 of the Listing Rules, such transactions will constitute non-exempt continuing connected transactions under Rule 14A.35 of the Listing Rules and will be subject to the reporting and announcement requirements set out in Rules 14A.45 to 14A.47 of the Listing Rules and the independent shareholders' approval requirements under Rule 14A.48 of the Listing Rules.

Under Rule 14A.35(2) of the Listing Rules, in respect of a continuing connected transaction which is not fully exempted, a cap must be set and disclosed. The proposed annual caps for the Telecom CDMA Lease, and the proposed annual cap for the Engineering Framework Agreement (as amended by the Engineering Framework Agreement) for the year ending 31 December 2009, the proposed revised annual cap for the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement for the year ending 31 December 2008 and the proposed annual cap for the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement (as amended by the Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Supplemental Agreement) for the year ending 31 December 2009 are set out below:

Continuing connected transactions	2008 (RMB in millions)	2009 (RMB in millions)	2010 (RMB in millions)
Telecom CDMA Lease	4,000	20,000	35,000
Engineering Framework Agreement	8,327 ^(a)	8,327	Not applicable
Ancillary Telecommunications Services Framework Agreement	4,850 ^(b)	6,800	Not applicable

Notes:

(a) Existing annual cap approved by the Independent Shareholders on 25 October 2006

(b) Revised annual cap

Special circumstances exist for the Interconnection Settlement Agreement (as amended by the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement) and no cap is proposed in respect of the settlement of interconnection charges arising from domestic long distance and local calls under the Interconnection Settlement Agreement (as amended by the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement) for the following reasons:

- (i) the Company's revenue depends on growth in call revenue and in its customer base for its various services. Any growth in the domestic long distance service and local service will necessarily result in increased transaction volumes under the Interconnection Settlement Agreement (as amended by the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement), which the Company will not be able to control as it depends entirely on customer usage. Any limits on these transactions will therefore potentially limit the Company's ability to conduct or expand its business in the ordinary course; and

- (ii) the tariffs payable under the Interconnection Settlement Agreement (as amended by the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement) are prescribed by the former Ministry of Information Industry of the PRC or the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology of the PRC and are subject to change from time to time.

The Company has applied to the Stock Exchange for a waiver from strict compliance with Rule 14A.35(2) of the Listing Rules that no caps be proposed for the transactions contemplated under the Interconnection Settlement Agreement (as amended by the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement) for the reasons set out above. Such waiver will be subject to the following conditions:

- (i) the Company will comply with all other relevant requirements under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules including the reporting and announcement requirements set out in Rule 14A.45 to Rule 14A.47 of the Listing Rules and the independent shareholders' approval requirements under Rule 14A.48 of the Listing Rules; and
- (ii) the transactions contemplated under the Interconnection Settlement Agreement (as amended by the Interconnection Settlement Supplemental Agreement) including the fact that no caps be proposed for such transactions will be conditional upon the transactions being approved by the Independent Shareholders at the Extraordinary General Meeting.

The Directors are of the opinion that the Telecom CDMA Lease and the Non-exempt Continuing Connected Transactions have been entered into, and will be carried out, in the ordinary and usual course of business of the Group and on normal commercial terms which are fair and reasonable so far as the interests of the Shareholders are concerned.

The Directors consider that such proposed annual caps, revised annual cap and no cap is proposed in respect of the settlement of interconnection charges are fair and reasonable. There are no prior transactions or relationship with China Telecom Corporation and its ultimate beneficial owners which require aggregation under Rule 14A.25 of the Listing Rules.

6 PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

As a result of the Proposed Business Acquisition, the business scope of the Company will expand to cover the expanded geographical scope of operations of the Company and the provision of mobile telecommunications services.

Details regarding the proposed amendment to the Articles of Association will be set out in the circular to be despatched to the Shareholders.
